They tackled the wily bass but to report of their catch was made on their return home.

BARBECUE AT BUENA VISTA.

The colored people of Buena Vista, Lexington, and surrounding county held a large and successful barbecue Friday night at Buena Vista. Over three hundred went from Lexington. The greatest abundance of eatables were on hand and much enjoyed. Mr. John B. Wright represented the city of Buena Vista and delivered the address of welcome, which was responded to by Rev. W. T. Johnston, pastor of the Baptist church (colored) of Lexington. A festival Saturday night concluded the exercises. About one hundred dollars was realized which will be divided between the two colored Baptist churches of Lexington and Buena Vista.

The good order attending the meeting was especially noticeable, which speaks well for the management of the enterprise.

The colored people are loud in their praise of the kindness received at the hands of the white residents of Buena Vista, to whom they were indebted for a large percentage of their patronage Saturday night.

CHURCH NOTES.

There were no services last Sunday at Trinity Methodist church, on account of improvements in progress there. The main auditorium and Sunday school room have been tastefully frescoed which adds greatly to the attractiveness of the church. The outside painting and other improvements have also contributed to the improved appearance of the building. Regular services will be held next Sunday.

The interior of the Baptist church has been painted and otherwise improved. New carpet has also been added. The church presents a very attractive appearance.

Work on the Presbyterian church is progressing and when completed that congregation will have a handsome edifice. They are worshipping in their lecture room.

THAT KISSING BUG.

The far-famed kissing bug which has held undisputed sway at our summer resorts has made its appearance here. A specimen can be seen at this office. It is striped and very similar to the hornet but much larger. Its stinger is over a quarter of an inch long and is a formidable looking weapon.

The eleventh annual meeting of the Virginia State Bar Association will take place Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the 1st, 2d and 3d of August next at the Virginia Hot Springs.

LEXINGTON FIREMEN

Invited to Participate in Trades Carnival at Staunton—The Boys Working For a New Uniform.

Mayor J. D. Anderson has received a communication from Staunton asking if the Lexington Fire Department would accept an invitation to be present in that city one day of the Trades Carnival to be held under the auspices of the Staunton Board of Trade, October 3rd to 6th inclusive. One day will be devoted exclusively to a grand fireman's parade.

The firemen interviewed express a desire to accept the invitation provided they can secure for themselves a new uniform. The present uniform, red shirt and white trousers, is somewhat out of date, and our firemen are desirous of having a uniform in keeping with other companies. They have selected a uniform and obtained prices on same. The only thing now is the lack of means with which to purchase them. The uniform selected consists of blue double-breasted sack coat and cap, regular fireman's cut, and will cost about $6 each. White trousers will continue to be worn. Forty uniforms will be sufficient for the present, and fully that number of firemen have signified their willingness to raise $2.50 each or $100 of this amount, leaving a balance of $140 to be provided for in some other way.

Now is an opportunity for our public spirited citizens to show their appreciation of the work done by our excellent Fire Department. Not that lack of interest has been shown in the recent past, but that increased interest is hoped for in the near future.

The Virginia State Fireman's Association will be held in Roanoke September 27th to 29th inclusive. It is very important that our firemen appear in their new uniforms. They have won honors in the past and hope to do so in the future. They have decided that they will not wear the red shirts again, and in the event of their inability to secure the new uniform, they will not wear a uniform.

Cannot something be done for their relief?

The $140 might be raised by popular subscription.

Who will suggest a plan and help put it into execution?

The Department has a Uniform Committee, composed of Messrs. M. L. Hildebrand, V. E. Funkhouser, and H. C. Bowyer, who will gladly receive contributions or suggestions looking to the securing of suitable uniforms.

THE SOUTHERN COLLEGIAN.

The commencement number of the Southern Collegian has been received. It contains a full report of the commencement exercises at Washington and Lee, including the address by Judge R. T. W. Duke, Grand Master of Virginia Masons, delivered Tuesday, June 13th, at the laying of the cornerstone of the Tucker Memorial Hall.

The magazine contains a timely article on "What a student may do towards paying for his own education at Washington and Lee University." A large number of new students is admitted each year who pay no tuition, because they are elected to free scholarships by local Alumni Associations, or else they win scholarships from preparatory schools. After a student enters upon his course opportunities are presented for continuing his studies without cost. There are twelve scholarships carrying free tuition, besides prizes ranging from $200 to $500.

Two instances of graduates are cited illustrating these points. One of them this year received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, after attending the University for nine years. He entered on a school scholarship and won scholarships enough to pay him $1,575 over and above the fees from which he was released.

The other student received the Master's degree. He also entered on a school scholarship and remained at the University five years. He graduated with $400 more than he had paid in, that is, he received on an average in each of the five years $80 over and above his University fees.

The Southern Magazine is the title of a new, one hundred and twenty-eight page pamphlet we have just received from The Southern Publishing Company, Manassas, Va. We welcome this new venture to our exchange table and wish it every success. It is published monthly at one dollar per year.

COLONEL E. PENDLETON DEAD.

This Well Known Lawyer Passed Away At His Home Here This Morning.

Colonel Edmund Pendleton died this morning at his residence on Letcher Avenue, aged about seventy-five years. Five years ago he retired from the practice of his profession on account of an attack of paralysis, from which he never recovered.

Colonel Pendleton was born in Amherst county, and was the son of Dr. Micajah Pendleton who afterwards removed to Buchanan, Botetourt county, where the subject of this sketch grew to manhood. He was educated there and well grounded in the classics by Prof. J. B. Minor who taught school at Buchanan. He afterwards entered the Virginia Military Institute and was graduated in the first class sent out by that institution in 1842. He afterwards studied law and located in Cincinnati, O., where he was successful. From that place he went to New Orleans, where he remained in successful practice of his profession until the outbreak of the Civil War. He then met the leading men of the State, including the Hon. Judah P. Benjamin, of President Davis' cabinet. He entered the Confederate service and attained the rank of colonel in a Louisiana regiment.

At the close of the war Colonel Pendleton returned to Buchanan and practiced in the courts of Botetourt, Rockbridge and adjoining counties. He represented this Senatorial District in the General Assembly where he was conspicuous for his profound knowledge of civil law. He came to Lexington about twenty years ago where he has since resided, and where he enjoyed a large and lucrative practice. He was justly regarded the peer of the cleverest men in the State.

Colonel Pendleton married in Cincinnati a Miss Morgan, whose mother was a sister of the late Jordan Anthony, of Buchanan, and Christopher Anthony, of Lynchburg. Mrs. Pendleton died about six years ago. Two children survive—Mrs. E. C. Coles and Mr. E. M. Pendleton, both of Lexington; and one sister, Mrs. J. Fulton Tompkins, of near Natural Bridge.

The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon at 6 o'clock from Grace Memorial Episcopal church, of which church the deceased was a member.

DEATHS.

DONALD.—James C. Donald, aged sixty-three years, died Thursday afternoon at his home two miles south of Lexington. He had been in failing health for several years with Bright's disease and he nearly two months previous to his death was confined to his bed.

He was a brave Confederate soldier, having entered the war as a member of the Rockbridge Grays and afterwards served in the Fourteenth Virginia Cavalry. The last year of the war he was a prisoner in Camp Chase. He was a quiet, unobtrusive man, a good citizen, and an exemplary Christian.

He is survived by his wife, who was a daughter of Charlton Wallace, of Natural Bridge, and four children—Mrs. James Brogan, Mrs. W. P. Gillespie, Messrs. J. C. and J. H. Donald, all of Rockbridge.

The funeral services, conducted by Rev. Henry P. Hamill, took place Friday afternoon from his late home, and interment was made in the Lexington cemetery. His comrades of Lee-Jackson Camp, of which he was a member, acted as pallbearers.

ROGERS.—Dr. William H. Rogers died at his home at Collierstown last Thursday morning, July 20, 1899, aged about fifty years. He retired the previous night in apparently good health but early Thursday morning he became unconscious and soon expired. Early in the spring he had a severe spell of typhoid fever but had to all appearances recovered, so his death came as a great surprise to his friends.

Deceased was a son of the late Dr. William Rogers, for many years a physician at Collierstown, whose wife was a Miss Hays of Massachusetts. His education was received at Washington College and his medical studies were completed in Baltimore where for some time he was an assistant to the noted eye specialist, Dr. Chisholm. Subsequently he located at Collierstown and spent the remainder of his life in the position in which he was born.

Dr. Rogers married Miss Mary Alpha, daughter of the late William Alpha of Upper Collier's Creek, who died in April last. One son survives him, Chisholm T. Rogers, of Collierstown, and one sister, Mrs. J. Woods Barclay, of West Virginia.

The funeral services took place Friday afternoon from the Collierstown Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. W. L. Bailey. Interment was made in the graveyard of that place.

"BEFORE BABY IS BORN."

A Valuable Little Book of Interest to All Women Sent Free.

Every woman looks forward with feelings of joy and anticipation to the one great event in her life, compared with which all others pale into insignificance. How proud she will feel when her babe nestles on her breast—how sweet the name of "Mother!" And yet, her anticipation of this event is clouded with dread of the pain and danger of the ordeal, so that it is impossible to avoid the feeling of foreboding which creeps over her. The danger and suffering attendant upon being a mother can be entirely prevented, so that the coming of the little stranger need not be looked forward to with fear. Every woman who reads this, can obtain a free and valuable little book entitled "Before Baby is Born," by sending her address to the Bradford Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga. This book contains priceless information for all women, and no one should fail to send for it.

JANET.

Summer Heat.—This is the season for bowel complaints. Green apples and cucumbers produce them and PERRY DAVID'S PAIN-KILLER cures them. To the troubled stomach it comes like a balm, the wind is assuaged, and the trouble ceases. Every druggist in the land keeps pain-killer, and no one should be without it in his family. Avoid substitutes, there is but one Pain-Killer, Perry David's. Price 25c. and 50c.

Summer Closing Out Sale

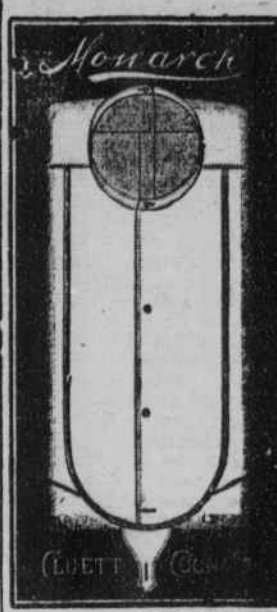

I would be obliged now to have a Summer Closing Out Sale even if it was not my usual custom to do so. The stocks of merchandise thrown on the market forces the sale, and I am going to cut prices or cut prices or cut prices.

So I am not one of those who wait until the summer goods are gathered together all the summer goods, and then the Odds and Ends, and instead of trying to get out for them, am glad to dispose of them at a loss, particularly so when I get the cash or sell it to one of those good customers who send me check as soon as I send in the bill.

To-day I reduced to 25c. about thirty five pieces of nice, all-wool Dress Goods that were worth 50c. and 75c. per yard. They are splendid goods, and if I were not some larger piece, would be picked up and tossed out in a day. This is the time when our friends and patrons from the country are sought to come to town. I do not want to lose the history of the town for years to come, but have such a chance. All you want is the money and you can buy in any store in town goods lower than you can buy in New York. I am cleaning out all Colored Linens and other Strictly Summer Goods. I think I can excel any house in the Valley in cleaning up stock when I take a hand. I am told by the drummers that I clean out better than they can any visit. I have determined this time to include Shoes in the sale. I do not say certainly that I am going to quit them, but I expect to. I certainly am going to let them go for the present. I want to use the money invested in them in another line for which lots of money is sent away from our town.

It may be of interest to some to know that almost everything has advanced and is still advancing. This is not the result of true or false, but in most things is the result of legitimate demand, showing a general and healthy improvement. The most staple things have advanced, for instance, 10c. Sheets are up from 25c to 30c. per yard. I have now about 200 dozen Mason's Fruit last. Those who come early get them at 50c. and 60c. per dozen. Those who defer coming will pay about 80 and 75c. I also have 400 Green Bags at 15c. each. After these are gone they will have to be sold at 18c.

Towels, Napkins, Doilies, Table Damask, Sheetings, Pillow Cases, Drapery, and all kinds of House Furnishing Goods will be much higher and we advise the housekeepers to take advantage of this last opportunity for obtaining these staples at a cost price which would be much higher now as every one is aware of the tremendous advance in cotton goods.

Carpet Chains, $1.00 halves for 50c.

We have hundreds of dollars in Hamburgs and Swiss Embroidery on which you will save about 35 per cent.

We have a big stock of Underwear from four (4) cents a garment up.

On Ribbons we can save you more money than on almost anything else.

Now remember we cannot close this immense stock on credit. The goods are absolutely Spot Cash to every one, and if anything is charged it goes on the books at regular prices.

We cannot, we will not, say goodbye to our thousands of friends in Rockbridge.

We hope to meet and greet them with a cordial shake of the hand for many years to come, not as merchants but as friends. Our hearts will never come so fondly turn to those who have been true and loyal. In a word, we would fight for any of these old and tried friends. Our Senior is now on the down hill side of life, and lives in the happy consciousness of having been just and true to his army of friends and patrons. Of course in his large and varied dealings he has made some enemies, but what sort of a weak vessel would he be were this not the case. The Bible says, "Woe to that man of whom all men speak well."

Respectfully,

THOS. S. WHITE & SON

BIGGEST BEARS ON EARTH.

Edward Harriman and a party of hunters have just sailed from Seattle to kill bears, but the animals they are going after are the largest in the world. They are about the size of a big ox, and live a lazy life, feeding on the fish which they catch from the streams in Kadiak Island, where they make their home. They have often been seen and killed, but none have ever been brought to this country. One man in the party is a scientist, who is sent along by the United States government, and he expects to bring back many curious things from the frozen land.

A letter from Richmond says: It is reported that General Finburgh Lee will come to Virginia probably during the latter part of August on a leave of absence. If he does so he will reach this State at a time when politics has assumed a white heat. O. course, as a general in the Federal army, he could not, if he wanted to, take any part in the campaign. His presence here, though, might aid in the end to the struggle. It would certainly tend to encourage the opposition against Mr. Martin.
